THURSDAY, MAY 3, 1877.

THE REPUBLICANS OF OHIO.

There has been a very strenuous effort on the part of "policy" journals to convince their readers that there is no foundation for the reports of wide-spread dissatisfaction with the Southern surrender, among the Republicans of Ohio. They have exultingly pointed to the report that the State Committee assembled April 19th, arranged for the State Convention and adjourned without any outbreak or protest, as evidence that the "policy" is thoroughly indorsed in Ohio. The following statement by an influential Republican editor who was invited to the meeting of the State Committee throws another light upon the situation, and the fact that his statement is copied in the Cincinnati Gazette adds to its significance. We commend its perusal to those who would like to know the "true inwardness" of the Republican sentiment of Ohio.

[From the Cincinnati Gazette April 28.]

Mr. D. Mackley, editor of the Jackson Standard, thus relates, in a letter to his paper, the story of a recent experience:

On the 12th of this month I received the following:

Ohio Republican Committee Rooms, Columbus, April 11th, 1877.

"Dear Sir: There will be a meeting of the State Republican Central Committee to consider the time for holding the State Convention, and other matters of importance, at the Hall of the House of Representatives, Columbus, Ohio, Thursday, April 19th, 1877.

"You are respectfully invited and earnestly urged to be present, and aid with your advice and counsel. We hope you will not fail to come.

Very Respectfully,
"A. T. Wikoff, Chairman.

"J. C. Donaldson, Secretary."

Being thus urged, I was there. About 4 o'clock I was informed that the State Central Committee had met, fixed the time for the State Convention for August 1, to be held at Cleveland, and had decided not to have the meeting at the hall of the House. (There were about 20) editors and prominent Republican workers present, all having received the same invitation that I did. Many of these men were like the Dutchman's son "Snake." They did not swear, but they thought "Cot tam" pretty loudly. They said they did not like to be snubbed in this way by the Central Committee, and if that concern thought they could run the campaign without the aid of the Republican editors, let them try it. It was pretty generally admitted that the State would be lost to the Republicans next fall. I was tickled over the matter. It relieves the editors of the party of all responsibility. Let this committee now run the thing. They have already whittled down the Republican majority from over one hundred thousand in 1863, to five or six thousand in 1876. This year they will land the whole concern over Jordan. The fact is, the committee dare not let the workers of the party be heard in council. There was but one opinion, and that was to "stop policy," and the committee had to drop the consultation at once or hear thunder from every direction. I did not even get a glimpse of Mr. Chairman Wikoff, who so cordially invited me to be present with my counsel and advice, but I will send him this paper, that he may know that I responded.

In connection with this there is also significance in the following extract from a Washington letter.

Senator Dorsey predicts that when Gen. Garfield returns from Ohio he will not be the Administration candidate for Speaker. Senator Dorsey, on a recent trip through Ohio, says that he found the Western Reserve in Garfield's district very earnestly opposed to the Southern policy of the President. Some prominent men in Garfield's district informed him (Dorsey) that, if the latter did appear as an administration candidate for Speaker, and indorsed the President's action with respect to the South, it would be the end of Gen. Garfield's career in the district.

CIVIL SERVICE REFORM.

"Perley," the Washington correspondent of the Boston Journal is a sort of boomerang champion, and likely to be quite as damaging as helpful to the "reforms" which he has so ardently espoused. For instance, there could hardly be anything funnier than the following despatch from one who has so eagerly eulogized the "civil service reform" inaugurated by the present administration. The pains he takes to show that by all civil service rules an officer should have been retained in his position, and that he has been "rotated" out of office solely because his place is wanted by an ardent follower of Mr. Greeley and the political campaign of 1872, cannot fail to impress the reader as comical:

[With the Boston Journal.]

The following manly letter of resignation sent to the President to-day by Col. A. M. Clapp, the Public Printer, verifies the prediction made in this correspondence. Col. Clapp was during the first session of the Forty-fourth Congress the subject of a merciless investigation by a committee of the Democratic House, prompted by the master printers of this city, who hoped to break up the Government printing office, and thus restore the old system of contract printing. This crusade against Col. Clapp failed, and Congress having made his office a Presidential appointment, he was indorsed by being nominated by President Grant and confirmed by a Republican Senate. President Hayes has retained him in office long enough to show that there is no cause for his being asked to resign, except that the place is wanted for an ardent follower of Mr. Greeley and the political campaign of 1872. Col. Clapp very manfully anticipates the time named for his vacating the office, and fixes the first of June as the date of his resignation.

OUR MAP OF THE SEAT OF WAR.

We present our readers on the first page to-day a map of the seat of war, which will be found of much assistance in the formation of a proper understanding of the movements in the Russo-Turkish war. The map covers the principal field of operations in Turkey-in-Europe, from the Southwestern boundary of Russia to Constantinople, and will enable the reader to trace the advance of the main body of the Russian army from the crossing of the river Pruth in the vicinity of Jassy, through Moldavia and Wallachia as reported by telegraph. We are indebted to the Boston Traveller for permission to obtain a special plate from its engraving of the seat of war, and we think it will be found very accurate and complete. Readers will find the map valuable for future reference, and by cutting it out and pasting it upon card-board, it will prove very convenient for tracing the movements of the hostile forces.

ANOTHER BRIGHT LETTER.

We publish on our first page to-day the second of Gail Hamilton's letters to the N. Y. Tribune, which will be found fully as sparkling and keen as the first. The N. Y. Nation is again subjected to vigorous discipline, and a great many people who have been bored by the insufferable egotism and pharisaical intolerance of that journal, will enjoy witnessing the merited excoriation administered by one of the brightest women of the age, who knows what she wishes to say and how to say it.

The Louisville Courier-Journal says that a Vicksburg negro stole an apple from a stand and was fined $20 for it. A Kentucky negro woman who sued a white man for $10,000 damages for killing her husband, got a verdict for one cent.

THE REBEL CONFEDERACY.

A SOUTHERN ORATOR ON THE TRIUMPH OF ITS PRINCIPLES—HOW THEY ARE TO ASSERT THEMSELVES IN THE FUTURE.

The celebration of the Confederate Memorial Day in Columbus, Ga., was marked by the delivery of an address by Captain James McLeskey, which the Enquirer prints in full. We quote a few illustrative and suggestive paragraphs:

"The Confederate Government, as projected, was but the the ideal expression of a principle dearer than the form itself, and he is but a superficial reader of events who says that the late war for that principle is a barren and fruitless failure; for it was more than a name, a fancy, or a sentiment that was the mainspring, the driving power of that gigantic struggle. It was a living reality, a great and appreciable good. It was the natural right of man bestowed upon him in the morning of his creation, subject to no limitations but the divine law of the God that made him, and such as by treaty with another he may fix upon himself. It was the right of the absolute self-government of the States, subject to no qualification under heaven, except such as the States fixed upon themselves in a common Constitution, a Constitution with no virtue but such as was given it by the States, and with no power except such as was prescribed by its own terms. It was for the purity and inviolability of this Constitution that our soldiers fought for four long years, and so bravely died. It was for the laying and firm establishment of this corner-stone of the Government that their ancestors fought in the armies of a hundred years ago. And it is with pride and exultation that I declare the truth here to-day over the bodies, as it were, of our immortal dead, that the patriots of '76, and the patriots of the late armies of the South contended for identically the same great principles—principles coeval with the Government itself, and officially recognized and declared in most authoritative form down to 1860. Though the Temple of the Confederacy was overthrown, Liberty herself was only made more lovely, as she stood revealed in the light that emanated from the fierce conflict; all eyes, except those of the enemy who smote her with the sword of his dire wrath, were turned in admiration upon her transfigured form, and the vestals at her shrine sang louder paeans of praise, and lighted new lamps of incense, to do her dauntless homage. And now, for whatever position she holds in the public heart, for whatever influence she may exercise in the political action of this country, and for whatever of devotion to her extremes by the gallant thousands who, for the last ten years, have refused to bend the knee of thrift and fawning to the Baal of centralism and of Federal monopoly and corruption, the Republic is in no small measure indebted to the Confederate knight who bore shield and broke lance for her fame and honor, and, for the very love of her, wore her beautiful colors in battle on the fore front of his helmet. The Southern element, as thus reviewed, is no indifferent or unknown factor in the problem of this country's future. Its virtues and principles, idealized and intensified in the Southern heart by the ordeal through which we have passed, and permeating every artery of the Government by the moral suasion of truth and right, will henceforth mark the policy, foreshadow the destiny, and hence to the welfare and happiness of the nation at large."

"There is one thing which will deserve the curse of God and man, and that is leaving the freedmen to be the prey of rebels."—William M. Evarts, in Cooper Institute, just before the November election.

"CONCILIATION."

[From the N. Y. Times.]

We alluded last week to certain outrages in Oglethorpe county, Ga., where, among others, a negro preacher was dragged to the hum of Republicanism. We now see by the Oglethorpe Echo, published in the county, that the prescription was effective. The Echo prints the following.

"Anthony Thurster, the negro preacher, who was so severely whipped by a party of disguised men near Maxey's recently, asks that we announce to his white friends that from this time forward he would prove himself a better man—will never again make a political speech, deliver a sermon, or vote a Republican ticket, from henceforth he is an unswerving Democrat. We are glad that Anthony's eyes are at last opened to a proper course for him to pursue, but sorry that such stringent measures had to be adopted ere he would, as it were, 'be born again.'"

THE TEXAS-PACIFIC SUBSIDY.

There is a remarkable reticence on the part of the "policy" journals in New England on the subject of the Southern subsidy schemes which are being adroitly pushed forward as a part of the conciliation programme. None of those journals care to meet on the President's attitude on these questions, although the statement have been publicly made and never contradicted, that he will use his influence in favor of these Southern subsidies. Surely such an explicit statement as the following by the Washington correspondent of the Boston Traveller, would not go unchallenged, if it stated other than the truth; and if the President does intend to favor subsidy schemes that have been emphatically denounced by popular sentiment at the North, the newspapers should not attempt to conceal it. Here is the Traveller's special:

Some of the Southern men who have lately talked with President Hayes on the subject, are satisfied that he will favor the passage of the Texas Pacific Railroad bill. He has lately given considerable attention to the subject, and is collecting official information regarding the country through which it is intended the road shall pass.

The friends of the project assert very positively that the President will, in his message to Congress at the extra session, endorse it and recommend the necessary legislation to enable the road to be built. The Southern men say that the endorsement of this road is to be part of the President's Southern policy, and is indicated as further evidence that he desires the people of the South to enjoy the same commercial advantage as those living North.

DOMESTIC NEWS.

NEW YORK CITY.

The Accident at the Post Office and Reasons Assigned.

NEW YORK, May 2. The fatal accident at the post office yesterday was due to the removal of a supporting brick wall under [illegible] that a wire girder could take its [illegible]. The new girder snapped like a [illegible].

Supt. Oakshatt, who has charge of the [illegible], says the wall was moved and [illegible] put in under orders of Mr. Hill, the present Supervising architect.

A. B. Mullett says the whole trouble in his case arose from the fact that a suspension truss had been set in as a girder. The reel wall which was taken away on the [illegible] floor thereby throwing two rooms into one, was originally continued up from the foundation. In order to form a suitable room on the fourth floor for Judge [illegible], U. S. District Court it was found necessary to remove the brick wall on that floor. This removed the support for the [illegible] floor wall and deflections and cracks [illegible] to be noticed in Benedict's room.— [illegible] the Supervising Architect, inspected the place on Monday and pronounced it safe, and that the work which had been [illegible] was correct.

Mullett says emphatically that the work was blunderingly done. This roof is one of the few metal roofs in this country which are perfectly fire proof and this is due to overlaying of the concrete on the arches of corrugated copper. Mullett al[illegible] that Inspector Clarkshe is incompetent and that the accident is due to his ignorance.

At the request of Secretary Sherman, Postmaster James will have an investigation made of the cause of the falling of a section of the roof of the Post Office, probably by architects who have not been employed by the Government. Mr. Mullett asserts that the accident instead of showing any weakness of the building, actually establishes its strength, as the ceiling of the Court Room remains practically intact.

Abandoned Children.

[illegible] Isaac and Rockwell Taylor, [illegible] respectively 7, 9 and 12 years, were found abandoned in the Grand Central depot Monday night. The children are unable to say where the parents were, but they were placed in the cars somewhere in New England and told to wait at the depot for their father.

The Leo

Captain Daniels and the mate Olsen, both deny the statement of the sailors that the steamer Leo was burned through careless stowage of the cargo, and say that the sailors are blackmailers.

THE FREE BAPTISTS.

Convention at Lawrence, Mass.

LAWRENCE, Mass., May 2. The New England Convention of Free Baptist churches began its session here last evening. Sixty delegates were present. Papers were read this morning by President O. B. Cheney, of Bates College, Rev. Hosea Quinby, of Milton Mills, Me., and Rev. S. D. Church, of Taunton. President Cheney stated that the denomination has 400 churches, 75,000 members and 250,000 members of their congregations. He believed in an ultimate practical union of all Baptists. The Neutrality of Servia

LONDON, May 2. A Berlin special definitely confirms the report that Russia at the instance of Austria has promised to respect the neutrality of Servia. The Turks have consequently abandoned the plan of occupying Gladova. The coup d'etat whereby the Russians seized the Barboschi bridge, was executed by General Schobelen.

The report finds no credence here [illegible] is it opposed to the whole line of the government's policy. Every one is so convinced of the falsity of these rumors that they do not cause the slightest uneasiness.

The March to Harboschi.

NEW YORK, May 2. The Herald correspondent at the headquarters of the Russian army sends the following, dated Kischeneff April 24: The Russian vanguard marched this morning from Kent[illegible] to the frontier. The Cossacks took the lead, taking the direction of Belgrade. One regiment marching at the head of the column. The troops crossed the Pruth by ordinary ferry-boats and made the march through mud. It halts at Barbos this morning. The vanguard of the army then occupied Ismail, Galatz and Reni. Since then two other columns have passed the Turkish frontier, one at [illegible] and the other [illegible].

May 2. The Telegraph [illegible] following from Vienna [illegible] convention between Russia and Roumania for the transit of the Czar[illegible] is considered by Austro-Hungary as a breach of neutrality and the impression [illegible] is such that from the aspect of affairs it seems doubtful whether the government will be able to resist longer manifestations of public opinion in favor of intervention. The press has never been so violent in its language towards Russia.

England's Neutrality Proclamation

The Telegraph's leading article points to the omission from the declaration of neutrality issued by the British government of a paragraph which appeared in the declaration issued at the outbreak of the Franco German war. The declaration then published contained the following: "Whereas we are firmly purposed and determined to abstain from taking any part directly or indirectly, in the war now unhappily existing between those sovereigns and to maintain peaceful and friendly intercourse with each of them."

The Telegraph says this omission can hardly be accidental, nor under the exceptional circumstances of the present war could the government be expected to bind the country to an unconditionally pacific course.

[NOTE. These letters are dated before the capture of the latter place. This estimate does not comprise the Circassians, Kurds and the militia which has been called out. The militia should furnish about 2,500.]

The Battle of Kars—Desperately Fought—Heavy Losses.

LONDON, May 2. The Daily News correspondent says a message from Vienna gives the following account of the battle of Kars: The centre of the Russian army, 40,000 strong, under Melikoff, attacked Mukhtar five miles from Kars on April 29th. The Turks fought desperately. The Russians supported by a powerful artillery, succeeded in dislodging them from their positions. We have received a very convenient little pamphlet containing an official register for the several counties of this State for the year 1877, compiled by Fred. J. It contains lists of all court and county officers, with date of terms of court and other information in compact and handy form.

Yesterday Marshal Low received a despatch from Deputy Marshal Ham of Boston telling him to hold the two boys who were arrested at the Maine Central depot Tuesday night and that he would send an officer after them. Marshal Low expects that the officer will arrive in this city this morning. UNITY CLUB. At the close of the business meeting of the Unity Club last evening a very pleasant entertainment was provided by the Section on Hospitality. The programme consisted of both vocal and instrumental music, and a number of choice selections were very beautifully rendered by some of our best musical talent. The entertainment was highly appreciated by the audience, who felt amply repaid for their attendance in the rain.

F. H. Coombs, Esq., our well-known City Surveyor and Engineer, a few days since surveyed and placed the boundaries of a few lots, for one of our citizens, adjoining the late Taylor Durgin estate, and in placing a granite monument for a corner landmark, some three feet below the present surface was found the same position of a former survey, made years ago, and in an exact perpendicular line with the present survey. This might be called accurate work.

HARRY ROBINSON'S MINSTRELS. This troupe will appear in Norombega Hall this evening. The following is what the Syracuse Courier has to say about their performances:

No better minstrel performance was ever given in Syracuse than that last evening at the Opera House by Harry Robinson's Company. There was a freshness and originality about it truly refreshing. Every member of the company showed himself to be an artist of the first class. The audience was very large, and was kept in the very best of humor throughout the entire entertainment.

LUMBER. The Surveyor General gives us the following figures showing the amount of lumber surveyed from April 1st to May 1st for the last three years:

Surveyed to May 1st, 1875,	1,212,188 feet
Surveyed to May 1st, 1876	4,171,290 feet
Surveyed to May 1st, 1877	6,179,584 feet
Total,	11,563,358 feet

It will be noticed that the amount this year is larger than for the two preceding years. This can be accounted for in the fact that the river has been open a longer time than is usual during April.

STARTLING BELL RINGERS. By reference to another column it will be seen that this favorite company will give an entertainment in Norombega Hall next Monday evening. The company has been on their eleventh annual tour and now consists of ten celebrated artists, composed of ladies and gentlemen. The programme consists of the classical, the comedy, the modern, the ancient and the [illegible] of the parlor, and cannot fail to furnish two hours of genuine enjoyment for the multitude. The price of admission has been fixed to suit the times and tickets with secured seats can be obtained at D. Bugbee's bookstore.

CENTENNIAL BOX. It will be remembered by many of our readers that at the last Fourth of July celebration it was determined by the committee of arrangements that a box should be constructed in which should be placed a full report of the doings of the day. And that this box should be left unopened until the next Centennial Fourth, 1976. The box was made of hard wood by Messrs. G. W. Merrill & Co. and is a very neat affair. On the outside in large letters is the inscription "Centennial Box 1876." The box contains a full report of all the incidents of the day as they are given in the daily papers, copies of which are enclosed, and has been placed in the vault in City Hall for safe keeping.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS. Last evening, S. S. Davis Supreme Chancellor Knights of Pythias of the World made an official visit to Norombega Lodge and was received with the usual honors. The Chancellor, who for the past two years has devoted seven months of the year to the interests of the order has visited all the States in the Union but two. He reports it in a flourishing condition in every respect, its growth being large but not too fast to need its best welfare. He goes to St. John, N. B. to-day on an official visit to the order of that city. After the Chancellor's remarks an hour was spent in social manner and the members sat down to an elegant and bountiful supper which was furnished by the Johnson Brothers.— The detail of the reception were arranged by Past Grand Chancellors F. M. Laughton, C. I. Brig[illegible] and Knight C. H. [illegible].

THE E. & N. A. RAILWAY

A Change of Gauge Contemplated—The Object, Plans, Etc.

Yesterday a brief despatch announced that the gauge of the European and North American Railway would be changed. The officers of the road were unwilling to give our reporter any information on the subject and the matter being an important one we give our readers the statements published by the Portland papers. The Advertiser says:

At the last meeting of the Maine Central Railroad Directors a proposition was received from the European and North American Railway Co., for a change of gauge, from broad to narrow, so that its tracks may correspond to the American system. It is understood that private parties will furnish the sum of $350,000 for this purpose and if the connecting roads, the Maine Central, Eastern and Boston & Maine, will provide some further assistance, the American directors will change the track to the narrow gauge between Bangor and Vanceboro, and the English directors that portion between Vanceboro and St. John. The Maine Central directors accepted this proposition, and the Eastern and Boston & Maine roads will without doubt do their part. The change of gauge will be accomplished by the first of August surely, perhaps much sooner. The whole work, as in the case of the Grand Trunk, will be accomplished in a single day.

When this is done there will be a continuous rail from New York to Halifax, without change of cars, as the Intercolonial road was changed some time ago to the narrow gauge. Passengers will leave New York at 11 A. M., arrive in Boston the same day, in time to take the 8 P. M. Pullman, arrive at St. John the next evening, and at Halifax one day and nineteen hours from New York.

It is reported that this is but the forerunner of a still more important movement. It will be remembered that a scheme was started a year ago for a line of steamers between Whitehaven, near Cape Canseau, and a port on the western coast of Ireland, that would make the trip between the two countries in five days. Since that time a company has been formed and a line of road surveyed from a point on the Intercolonial road to Whitehaven, which is about 150 miles nearer Ireland than Halifax. By this route passengers will pass from New York on their way to Europe without change of cars over the above named roads until they reach Monckton on the Intercolonial, when their cars instead of proceeding to Halifax, will be switched on the branch road to Whitehaven, where they will take the steamer.

The Press copies the above statement and adds the following, which comprises all the information we are able at present to gather:

A gentleman who was present, at the directors meeting gives an entirely different account of the above matter. He says that it was stated that the Shaw Brothers, owners of the tanneries on the line of the European and North American road, had made some proposition to the officials of that road to furnish the money to change the gauge and take their pay in freight. It was suggested at the meeting that the other railroads between Bangor and Boston should assist in defraying the expense. Thereupon a committee was appointed to hear the propositions, consider the same and report to the Board. This is all the action taken in the matter at the meeting.

To all, particularly invalids, spring is a trying season. Indications of sickness should at once be attended to. Fatal diseases may be caused by allowing the bowels to become constipated and the system to remain in a disordered condition, until the disorder has time to develop itself. An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure, is an old and truthful saying. Therefore we advise all who are troubled with the complaints now very prevalent—headache, indigestion, disordered liver, want of appetite, nausea, or feverish skin to take, without delay, Schenck's Mandrake Pills. We know of no remedy so harmless and decisive in its action. It at once strikes at the root of the disease and produces a healthy tone to the system. People never need suffer from any disease arising from a disordered condition of the liver if they would take this excellent medicine when they feel the first indication of the malady. Families leaving home for the summer months should take three or four boxes of these pills with them. They have an almost instant effect. They will relieve the patient of headache in one or two hours, and will rapidly cleanse the system of impure blood, and will effectually prevent a bilious attack. They are sold by all druggists. eodlm my1

VEGETINE

WILL CURE RHEUMATISM.

MR. ALBERT CROOKER, the well known druggist and apothecary, of Springvale, Me., always advises every one troubled with Rheumatism to try VEGETINE.

Read His Statement:

SPRINGVALE, Me., [illegible]

MR. H. R. STEVENS:—

Dear Sir—Fifteen years ago last fall I was taken sick with Rheumatism, was unable to move until the next April. From that time until three years ago this fall I suffered everything with the rheumatism. Sometimes there would be weeks that I could not step one step; these attacks were quite often. I suffered everything that a man could. Over three years ago last spring I commenced taking VEGETINE and followed it up until I had taken seven bottles. I have had no rheumatism since that time. I always advise every one that is troubled with rheumatism to try Vegetine and not suffer for years as I have done. This statement is gratuitous as far as Mr. Stevens is concerned. Yours, etc.,

ALBERT CROOKER,

Firm of A. Crooker & Co.,

Druggists and Apothecaries.

Vegetine

HAS ENTIRELY CURED ME

BOSTON, Oct. [illegible]

Mr. H. R. STEVENS:

Dear Sir—My daughter, after having a severe attack of Whooping Cough, was left in a feeble state of health. Being advised by a friend she tried the Vegetine, and after using a few bottles was fully restored to health.

I have been a great sufferer from Rheumatism. I have taken several bottles of the Vegetine for this complaint, and am happy to say it has entirely cured me. I have recommended the Vegetine to others with the same good results. It is a great cleanser and purifier of the blood; it is pleasant to take and I can cheerfully recommend it.

JAMES MORSE, 364 Athens street.

Rheumatism is a Disease of the Blood

The blood in this disease is found to contain an excess of fibrin. Vegetine acts by converting the blood from its diseased condition to a healthy circulation. Vegetine regulates the bowels, which is very important in this complaint. One bottle of Vegetine will give relief, but to effect a permanent cure it must be taken regularly, and may take several bottles, especially in cases of long standing. Vegetine is sold by all druggists. Try it, and your verdict will be the same as that of thousands before you, who say, "I never found so much relief as from the use of Vegetine," which is composed exclusively of Barks, Roots and Herbs.

"Vegetine,"

Says a Boston physician, "has no equal as a blood purifier. Hearing of its many wonderful cures, after all other remedies had failed, I visited the laboratory and convinced myself of its genuine merit. It is prepared from barks, roots and herbs, each of which is highly effective, and they are compounded in such a manner as to produce astonishing results."

VEGETINE.

NOTHING EQUAL TO IT.

SOUTH SALEM, MASS., Nov. 14, 18[illegible]

Mr. H. R. STEVENS:—

Dear Sir—I have been troubled with Scrofula, Canker and Liver Complaint for three years. Nothing ever did me any good until I commenced using the Vegetine. I am now getting along first rate, and still using the Vegetine. I consider there is nothing equal to it for such complaints. Can heartily recommend it to everybody.
